SUBJECT TO SENSITIVE SECURITY INFORMATION PROTECTIVE ORDER IN IBRAHIM v. DHS ET AL., 3:06-CV-00545-WHA (N.D. CAL.)
Warning: This record may contain sensitive security information that is controlled under 49 C.F.R. part 1520. No part of this record may be disclosed to persons without a 'need to know,' as defined in 49 C.F.R. part 1520, except with the written permission of the administrator of the Transportation Security Administration. 1 Pursuant to the Court's December 6, 2013 Order (Dkt. 652), Defendants respectfully
2 submit the following proposed findings of fact and conclusions of law after bench trial:

3 PROPOSED FINDINGS OF FACT

4 The Federal Government's Terrorist Screening Apparatus

5 1. Multiple components of the federal government work together to secure the 6 nation's borders and its airways and protect them from terrorist threats.

8 TSC000890-891; TX 538; TX 541

9 2. The Federal Bureau of Investigation ("FBI") investigates and analyzes 10 intelligence relating to both domestic and international terrorist activities and administers the 11 Terrorist Screening Center ("TSC").

12 TX 508 at TSC000006; Lubman at 566:7-13, 585:9-12

13 3. The National Counterterrorism Center ("NCTC") serves as the primary 14 organization for analyzing and integrating intelligence relating to international terrorism and 15 counterterrorism.

16 TX 251 at TSC000889; Lubman at 560:10-18

17 4. The Department of State ("State") adjudicates visa applications in accordance 18 with the Immigration and Nationality Act ("INA") and, with respect to its visa function, works
19 with other agencies to reduce the United States' vulnerability to terrorism.

20 Cooper at 625:24-626:1, 629:22-630:4; TX 251 at TSC000891

21 5. The purpose of the Government's terrorist watchlisting and screening processes is to 22 support the U.S. government's efforts to combat terrorism by consolidating the terrorist
23 watchlist and providing screening and law enforcement agencies with information to help them
24 respond appropriately during encounters with known or suspected terrorists.

25 Lubman at 556:5-557:11, 559:2-560:6; TX 251 at TSC000889

26 Creation of the Terrorist Screening Center ("TSC")

27 6. In 2003, the President ordered the establishment of a governmental organization
28 to consolidate the Government's approach to terrorism screening and provide for the appropriate

1 and lawful use of terrorist information in screening processes.

2 Lubman at 557:3-11, 566:16-21; TX 538; TX 541; TX 1034 at 3

3 7. The creation of this new entity, TSC, was driven in part by the 9/11
4 Commission's conclusion that the lack of intelligence-sharing across federal agencies had 5 created vulnerabilities in the nation's security.

6 Lubman at 556:12-18

7 8. Before the creation of TSC, multiple terrorist watchlists were maintained
8 separately in different agencies.

9 Lubman at 556:15-16

10 9. TSC consolidated and centralized the watchlists, as the 9/11 Commission 11 recommended.

12 Lubman at 557:3-11; TX 250 at TSC001043

13 10. TSC was created through a Memorandum of Understanding entered into by the 14 Secretary of State, the Attorney General, the Secretary of Homeland Security, and the Director of 15 Central Intelligence in order to fulfill the requirements of Homeland Security Presidential 16 Directive (HSPD) 6.

17 TX 541; TX 201; Lubman at 556:11-557: 11

18 11. TSC is administered by the FBI.

19 Lubman at 566:8-9

20 12. TSC is staffed by officials from a variety of agencies, including the Department of 21 Homeland Security and the Department of State.

22 Lubman at 566:9-10; TX 1034 at 4; TX 1041

23 13. TSC, in turn, maintains the Terrorist Screening Database ("TSDB"), which 24 generally contains identifying information about persons known or reasonably suspected of 25 being engaged in terrorist activity.

26 Lubman at 559:2-8, 22-25, 560:1-6, 566:7-13, 619:14-16; TX 250 at TSC001043;

1 The Terrorist Screening Database (“TSDB”)

2 14. To fulfill its mission of providing appropriate terrorist-related information in 3 screening processes, TSC shares TSDB information with front-line screening agencies, including
4 the Department of State, U.S. Customs and Border Protection (“CBP”), and the Transportation
5 Security Administration (“TSA”).

6 Lubman at 559:22-25; TX 251 at TSC000891-891

7 15. TSC exports TSDB information to other government agencies for upload to their 8 databases, such as State’s Consular Lookout and Support System database (“CLASS”) and 9 CBP’s TECS database.

10 Lubman at 573:6-19; 575:4-6, 13-15, 620:6-8; Cooper at 635:11-19; TX 251; TX

11 1034

12 16. The substantive derogatory information supporting a TSDB nomination related to 13 international terrorism is contained in a separate database known as the Terrorist Identities
14 Datamart Environment (“TIDE”), maintained by the National Counterterrorism Center.

15 Lubman at 559:12-16

16 17. The contents of a TIDE record, including the basis for an individual’s 17 watchlisting, are classified.

18 Lubman at 559:16; 563:10-12

19 18. The biographic information contained in the classified TIDE database is deemed 20 “Unclassified For Official Use Only” so that the data can be provided to the unclassified TSDB
21 database and exported from the TSDB to government agencies for screening purposes; the 22 information remains classified for all other purposes.

24 NCTC000060

25 19. In general, TSC accepts nominations into the TSDB of individuals who meet the 26 “reasonable suspicion” standard of having been engaged in conduct constituting, in preparation 27 for, in aid of or related to terrorism and terrorist activities.

1           20.     Prior to 2009, each nominating agency set its own nominating procedures for 2 inclusion in the TSDB based on its interpretation of HSPD-6, HSPD-11, and the MOU that
3 established the TSC.

4                     Lubman 308:4-11

5           21.     Under certain circumstances, individuals who do not meet the reasonable
6 suspicion standard can be included in the TSDB as exceptions to the reasonable suspicion 7 standard.

12           23.     Each nomination to the TSDB undergoes a multi-agency review process to ensure 13 accuracy and sufficiency.

14                     Lubman at 560:23-561:6; TX 250 at TSC001047

15           24.     First, a nominating agency, like the FBI, nominates an individual after reviewing 16 the nomination and confirming that the individual to be nominated meets the relevant 17 watchlisting criteria.

20           25.     Next, the nomination is reviewed by NCTC to ensure that it is supported by 21 sufficient “derogatory information that meet[s] the watchlisting standard” and includes 22 “sufficient biographical or biometric identifiers.”

23                     TX 250 at TSC001047; TX 251 at TSC000921; Lubman at 560:21-561:1, 563:10-
24 19; Lubman Dep. at 44:18 - 45:14

25           26.     After NCTC reviews the nomination and supporting derogatory information, the 26 nomination is sent to TSC, and TSC reviews the nomination. TSC accepts nominations if they 27 meet the minimum substantive derogatory criteria for placement in the TSDB and, if applicable, 28 the minimum criteria for placement on two derivative subsets of the TSDB, the No Fly and

1 Selectee Lists.

2 Lubman at 560:21 – 561:12; TX 250 at TSC001043, 1047

3 27. When a government agency encounters an individual in the TSDB, for example,
4 at the border or at an airport, the TSDB record of that individual is reviewed by TSC to confirm
5 the individual is properly watchlisted.

6 Lubman at 560:21-561:6 ; TX 238 at P006549-6552

7 28. Also, whenever a TSDB record is modified (for example, if a CIA operator sends 8 information about a new passport for a known or suspected terrorist in the database), TSC will 9 review the TSDB record to ensure that it continues to be appropriate to have the individual in the 10 TSDB, and if applicable, on the No Fly or Selectee List.

11 Lubman at 561:8-12

12 29. Nominations to the TSDB or its derivative subsets may not be based solely on an 13 individual's religion or nationality.

14 Lubman at 564:17-19; Kelley at 380:16-22

15 30. The TSDB does not contain a field to indicate an individual's religion.

16 Lubman at 339:19-22; TX 1033

17 31. FBI policy prohibits the nomination of an individual to the TSDB or its derivative
18 subsets on the basis of religion or nationality.

19 Lubman at 565:4-6; 611:19-23

20 32. Individuals are not notified when they are placed in the TSDB because doing so
21 could compromise a counterterrorism intelligence effort or investigation by revealing sources
22 and methods, and alerting the individual that they may be the subject of an investigation, which 23 could compromise the investigation.

24 Lubman at 563:20-564:7.

25 33. Individuals are not given an opportunity to present evidence rebutting the 26 inclusion of their identity in the TSDB because to do so would require the government to release
27 classified information which would compromise investigations, compromise terrorist combative
28 efforts, and could compromise lives and undercover sources.

2 Redress Procedures for Travelers Denied Boarding

3 34. Pursuant to a Memorandum of Understanding, the government sought to 4 “establish and implement a coordinated redress process to respond to individual complaints
5 about adverse experiences during terrorism screening that relate to the use of information
6 contained in the [TSDB].”

7 TX 537 at NCTC000002; Lubman at 560:21-563:6

8 35. As part of the legislation implementing the recommendations of the 9/11
9 Commission, Congress enacted 49 U.S.C. § 44926, which requires DHS to establish a timely and 10 fair process for individuals who believe they have been delayed or prohibited from boarding a 11 commercial aircraft because they were wrongly identified as a threat in the screening systems
12 and programs utilized by TSA, CBP, or any other office or component of DHS.

15 36. DHS TRIP—and prior to 2007, the Traveler Identity Verification Program—is 16 the central administrative redress process for individuals who claim they, for example, have 17 been denied or delayed airline boarding or have been repeatedly referred for additional 18 screening prior to being permitted to board

20 37. Travelers who experience travel difficulties at transportation hubs, including 21 denied or delayed boarding, or who believe that they have been improperly placed in the TSDB,
22 may submit a redress inquiry to DHS TRIP.

23 49 C.F.R. § 1560.205(a); Lubman Dep. 0098:5-9; Lubman at 561:13-17

24 38. If the applicable DHS component determines that the complainant is an exact or 25 near match to an identity in the TSDB, the matter is referred to the TSC Redress Unit.

26 Lubman at 348:14-19, 561:23 – 562: 1

27 39. The TSC Redress Unit reviews the available information to determine (1) whether 28 the individual’s status is an exact match to an identity in the TSDB; if an exact match, (2)

5 40. As part of this process, TSC conducts a “de novo review” of the TSDB record.

6 Lubman at 562:2 - 5

7 41. TSC’s review includes contacting the agency that originally nominated the 8 individual for placement in the TSDB, and analyzing any derogatory information that supports 9 the nomination as well as any information from other sources.

10 Lubman at 562:3 – 5; TX 537 at NCTC00008-9; TX 250.

11 42. The TSC Redress Unit then notifies DHS TRIP of any modification or removal of

13 Lubman at 562:7 – 9

14 43. In response to a request for redress, a determination letter is sent to the

17 44. Plaintiff submitted a Passenger Identity Verification Form (PIVF) to DHS’s
18 Traveler Identity Verification Program on March 24, 2005.

19 Lubman at 342:1-9, 348:5-19; TX 39; TX 76

20 45. Plaintiff’s PIVF was provided to TSC for review.

21 Lubman at 349: 17-22; TX 76

22 46. After TSC conducted the requisite review, DHS’s Traveler Identity Verification

4 48. In general, to approach the border of the United States and apply for admission to 9 Consulate.

10 Cooper at 627:3-9; 628:1-4; 8 U.S.C. § 1202(c), (e), and (h); 22 C.F.R. § 41.102-103

11 Cooper at 423:18-25; 424:8-17; 670:10-671:9; 674:11-23

7                   Cooper 630:23-631:1.

8           64. A visa revocation does not constitute a finding that the alien is ineligible for a

2 Plaintiff's Visa Status

3 71. In 2000, as a Malaysian citizen seeking to study at Stanford University, Plaintiff
4 was required to have a valid student visa in order to travel to the United States and apply for 5 admission at the port of entry.

8 72. Plaintiff was issued an F-1 student visa in September 2000 that was valid until 9 September 18, 2005.

10 Cooper at 626:17-18; 635:20-636:13; TX 207 at DOS000043

11 73. State prudentially revoked Plaintiff's F-1 visa on January 31, 2005.

12 Cooper at 637:5-22; TX 15

13 74. The decision to revoke Plaintiff's visa included a review of classified information.

14 Cooper at 708:15-17

15 75. As noted in the Certificate of Revocation, "subsequent to visa issuance,
16 information [came] to light indicating that [Plaintiff] may be inadmissible to the United States
17 and ineligible to receive a visa under section 212(a)(3)(B) [of the INA, 8 U.S.C. §

19 establish [her] eligibility for a visa before being permitted to apply for entry to the United 20 States."

21 TX 15; Cooper at 637:23-638:8.

22 76. State revoked Plaintiff's visa because information came to light subsequent to the 23 issuance of her visa in 2000 that indicated that Plaintiff may be ineligible for a visa.

27 permanently ineligible for a visa in the future.

8 PROPOSED CONCLUSIONS OF LAW

9 1. Standing: Plaintiff does not have standing to bring her claims because (1) [REDACTED]
10 [REDACTED] (2) she is not suffering any injury as 11 a result of her [REDACTED] REDACTED; and (3) she did not establish the “significant 12 voluntary connection” to the United States such that she, as a non-resident alien, has the right to 13 assert constitutional claims.

14 Proposed Findings of Fact ¶¶ 69, 72, 112-113, 116-119, 121-124, 129-136; Lujan
15 v. Defenders of Wildlife, 504 U.S. 555, 561 (1992) (Plaintiff cannot rely on 16 allegations from the complaint but rather “must ‘set forth’ by affidavit or other 17 evidence ‘specific facts’” establishing each element of standing); Summers v.
18 Earth Island Inst., 555 U.S. 488, 493 (2009) (must show that [she] is under threat 19 of suffering ‘injury in fact’ that is concrete and particularized; the threat must be 20 actual and imminent, not conjectural or hypothetical; it must be fairly traceable to 21 the challenged action of the defendant; and it must be likely that a favorable 22 judicial decision will prevent or redress the injury.”); Friends of the Earth, Inc. v.
23 Laidlaw Env'tl. Servs., Inc., 528 U.S. 167, 170 (2000) (distinguishing the doctrine
24 of standing from the doctrine of mootness); City of Los Angeles v. Lyons, 461
25 U.S. 95, 105 (1983); Ibrahim v. DHS, 669 F.3d 983, 994-97 (9th Cir. 2012)
26 (finding standing based on conclusion “that removal of [Plaintiff’s] name from 27 government watch lists would make a grant of a visa more likely.”).

22 2. Plaintiff is a non-resident alien living in Malaysia, with no evidence indicating 23 that she has either presence or property in the United States. She left the United States in 2005, 24 intending to return permanently to Malaysia after completing her graduate work; as a result, she 25 has no constitutional rights under applicable Circuit precedent.

26 Proposed Findings of Fact ¶¶ 71, 112, 136-37; Ibrahim v. DHS, 669 F.3d 983, 997
27 (9th Cir. 2012) (finding plaintiff had right to assert constitutional claims only 28 where she alleged that “purpose of her [January 2005] trip was to further, not to sever, her connection to the United States, and she intended her stay abroad to be brief”)

Unauthorized release may result in civil penalty or other action.

1           3.       Procedural Due Process: Even if she had standing, Plaintiff failed to establish
2 that she has been deprived of a liberty interest that would trigger a due process analysis.

3                     Proposed Findings of Fact ¶¶ 69, 120, 121-124, 129; Wedges/Ledges of Cal. v.
4                     City of Phoenix, 24 F.3d 56, 62 (9th Cir. 1994).

5           4.       Plaintiff's REDACTED does not interfere with any liberty or 6 property interest that would trigger substantive or procedural due process.

7                     Proposed Findings of Fact ¶¶ 69, 129-135

8           5.       The decisions of Department of State consular officials with regard to 9 admissibility of aliens are not reviewable.

10                    Kleindienst v. Mandel, 408 U.S. 753, 762 (1972) (“[U]nadmitted and nonresident
11                    alien[s] . . . [have] no constitutional right of entry to this country as a 12                    nonimmigrant or otherwise.”); U.S. ex rel Knauff v. Shaughnessy, 338 U.S. 537, 13                    544 (1950) (“[w]hatever the procedure authorized by Congress is [to challenge an 14                    alien’s denial of admission], it is due process as far as an alien denied entry is 15                    concerned.”); Ibrahim II, 669 F.3d at 993 (“Ibrahim’s future ability to obtain a 16                    visa is uncertain and we would be powerless to review a denial”).

17           6.       Plaintiff’s inability to travel to the United States stems from her lack of a visa, and 18 that inability cannot be the basis of a due process claim, because it amounts to a challenge to the 19 visa decision.

20                    Proposed Findings of Fact ¶¶ 48, 127; Kleindienst, 408 U.S. at 762; Landon v.
21                    Plasencia, 459 U.S. 21, 32 (1982) (“This Court has long held that an alien seeking 22                    initial admission to the United States requests a privilege and has no constitutional 23                    rights regarding his application, for the power to admit or exclude aliens is a 24                    sovereign prerogative.”); see also Nov. 1, 2013 Order on Summ. J. at 10 (“Our 25                    court of appeals has ruled that plaintiff’s substantial connection to the United 26                    States gives her standing to assert constitutional claims but this ruling cannot 27                    undo the clear cut rule in Kleindienst.”).

28           7.       Because Plaintiff’s alleged inability to work in the United States stems from her lack of a visa, that alleged inability cannot be the basis of a due process claim, because it amounts to a challenge to the visa decision.

                    Proposed Findings of Fact ¶¶ 48, 52, 59, 60, 127; Kleindienst, 408 U.S. at 762;
Landon, 459 U.S. at 32; see also Nov. 1, 2013 Order on Summ. J. at 10.

                    8.       Alternatively, Plaintiff failed to establish that she has suffered a complete prohibition of the right to engage in a calling.

                    Proposed Findings of Fact ¶¶ 130-135, 137; Conn v. Gabbert, 526 U.S. 286, 292 (1999) (right to pursue one’s chosen profession is only implicated where there is a “complete prohibition of the right to engage in a calling.”); Dittman v. California,

191 F.3d 1020, 1029 (9th Cir. 1999) (a violation of one's liberty interest in employment right requires a showing of a "complete barrier" to a profession).

9. Plaintiff failed to establish "the public disclosure of a stigmatizing statement by the government, the accuracy of which is contested," plus (2) "the denial of 'some more tangible interest[] such as employment' or the alteration of a right or status recognized by state law."

Proposed Findings of Fact ¶¶ 120, 130-135; Ulrich v. City & Cnty. of S.F., 308 F.3d 968, 982 (9th Cir. 2002) (citing Paul v. Davis, 424 U.S. 693, 701 (1976)).

10. Even if Plaintiff had shown that she had been deprived of a liberty interest, the watchlisting and redress procedures that were provided in her case—including the TSC's review of the nomination, the TSC and nominating agencies' review at the point of encounter, the DHS referral of TSDB travel related complaints to TSC for review, and the availability of § 46110 review in the Court of Appeals—provide sufficient protection against the risk of erroneous deprivations.

Proposed Findings of Fact ¶¶ 19-28, 34-47, 69, 70; 49 U.S.C. §46110; Jifry v. FAA, 370 F.3d 1174, 1183 (D.C. Cir. 2004) (rejecting due process challenge to determination that plaintiffs posed threats to civil aviation because "substitute procedural safeguards may be impracticable, [in those cases], and in any event, are unnecessary" because of "the governmental interests at stake and the sensitive security information" involved; as a result, due process did not require that plaintiffs be given the "specific evidence" upon which the determinations are based); Al Haramain Islamic Found., Inc. v. U.S. Dep't of Treasury, 686 F.3d 965, 980 (9th Cir. 2012) (explaining that the due process inquiry "cannot be done in the abstract," but instead requires that a court "carefully assess the precise 'procedures used' by the government, 'the value of additional safeguards,' and 'the burdens of additional procedural requirements'" (quoting Foss v. Nat'l Marine Fisheries Serv., 161 F.3d 584, 589 (9th Cir. 1998)); In re Nat'l Sec. Agency Telecomms. Records Litig., 671 F.3d 881, 902 (9th Cir. 2011) (internal quotation marks omitted) (due process balancing test is "flexible and calls for such procedural protections as the situation demands").

11. Protecting national security, including screening individuals to prevent terrorist activity, is a compelling government interest.

Proposed Findings of Fact ¶¶ 1-15; Holder v. Humanitarian Law Project, 561 U.S. 1, 130 S. Ct. 2705, 2727 (2010) ("[N]ational security and foreign policy concerns arise in connection with efforts to confront evolving threats in an area where information can be difficult to obtain and the impact of certain conduct difficult to assess.").

12. Plaintiff has failed to identify alternative or substitute procedures that would not infringe upon the government's interests in protecting national security.

Proposed Findings of Fact ¶¶ 32-33, 1-15; Mathews v. Eldridge, 424 U.S. 319, 335 (1976) (courts must consider "the risk of an erroneous deprivation of such

 6 (9th Cir. 2012); NCRI v. Clinton, 251 F.3d 208-9 (D.C. Cir. 2001) (government
 7 need not disclose the classified information to plaintiff because this information 8 “is within the privilege and prerogative of the executive, and we do not intend to 9 compel a breach in the security which that branch is charged to protect”); Jifry, 10 370 F.3d at 1183-84; Hunt v. CIA, 981 F.2d 1116, 1119 (9th Cir. 1992) (“To

16
 17 13. Substantive Due Process: Plaintiff failed to identify a deprivation of a 18 fundamental right that would implicate substantive due process protections.

19 Proposed Findings of Fact ¶¶ 69, 112-113, 116-119, 120, 121-124, 129-136;
 20 Shanks v. Dressel, 540 F.3d 1082, 1087 (9th Cir. 2008) (threshold” requirement
 21 of any substantive due process claim is the showing of the deprivation of a 22 protected interest); Brittain v. Hansen, 451 F.3d 982, 990 (9th Cir. 2006)
 23 (““Substantive due process is ordinarily reserved for those rights that are 24 ‘fundamental.’”) (citing Washington v. Glucksberg, 521 U.S. 702, 721–22 25 (1997)).

26 14. Equal Protection: Plaintiff failed to establish that Defendants intentionally, and 27 without rational basis, treated her differently from others similarly situated.

28 Proposed Findings of Fact ¶¶ 29, 31; North Pacifica LLC v. City of Pacifica, 526 F.3d 478, 486 (9th Cir. 2008) (plaintiff alleging equal protection claim must demonstrate that defendant “intentionally, and without rational basis, treated the plaintiff differently from others similarly situated”)

15. First Amendment (Association): Plaintiff failed to establish a burden on a First Amendment right to associate with her husband or with other Muslims.

Navajo Nation v. U.S. Forest Serv., 535 F.3d 1058, 1069 (9th Cir. 2008) (en banc) (courts scrutinize government action under RFRA “only if there is a substantial burden on the free exercise of religion”).

16. First Amendment (Retaliation): Plaintiff failed to establish that the exercise of constitutionally protected rights was a “substantial” or “motivating” factor in placing her on a watchlist.

Mt. Healthy City Sch. Dist. of Educ. V. Doyle, 429 U.S. 274, 287 (1977) (prima the exercise of constitutionally protected rights was a “substantial” or “motivating” factor in the decision to REDACTED);

CarePartners v. Lashway, 545 F.3d 867, 877 (9th Cir. 2008).

1           17.     The Court’s review of government actions related perceived security threats posed
2 by non-resident aliens, must give substantial deference to the government’s determinations.

3                     Proposed Findings of Fact ¶¶ 1-20, 23-34; IARA v. Gonzales, 477 F.3d 728, 735
4 (D.C. Cir. 2007) (in adjudicating challenge of U.S. organization to its designation
5 as a specially designated global terrorist pursuant to Executive Order 13224 and 6 International Emergency Economic Powers Act, “our review-in an area at the 7 intersection of national security, foreign policy, and administrative law – is 8 extremely deferential.”); Al-Haramain Islamic Foundation, Inc. v. U.S. Dep’t of 9 Treasury, 686 F.3d 965, 979 (9th Cir. 2012) (same and quoting language from 10 IARA).

11           18.     Failing to check a box on a visa refusal form (“You are eligible to apply for a 12 waiver of the ground(s) of ineligibility”) did not constitute a “final agency action” subject to 13 review under the Administrative Procedure Act (“APA”).

14                     Proposed Findings of Fact ¶¶ 97-102. 5 U.S.C. §704 (limiting judicial review to 15 “final agency action”); Lujan v. Nat’l Wildlife Fed’n, 497 U.S. 871, 882 (1990) 16 (“When . . . review is sought not pursuant to specific authorization in the 17 substantive statute, but only under the general review provisions of the APA, the 18 ‘agency action’ in question must be ‘final agency action.’”).

19           19.     Even if that were an agency action subject to review under the APA, the ultimate
20 decision of the consular officer or the Secretary of State to recommend a waiver or a possible
21 transmission of a waiver request to the Department of Homeland Security is entirely 22 discretionary and is thus not subject to review by this court.

23                     Proposed Findings of Fact: ¶¶ 97-102. 8 U.S.C. § 1182(a); 22 C.F.R. § 40.301;
24 Kleindienst v. Mandel, 408 U.S. 753, 765 (1972) (finding that, in action to compel 25 Attorney General to grant a visa waiver, “the power to exclude aliens is inherent 26 in sovereignty, necessary for maintaining normal international relations and 27 defending the country against foreign encroachments and dangers-a power to be 28 exercised exclusively by the political branches of government”)

29           20.     Even if review of the consular officer’s decision were available, any failure to 30 inform Plaintiff of her ability to apply for a waiver was not an abuse of discretion, because the 31 statute does not require that notice be given to nonimmigrant visa applicants that the statute
32 provides a possible waiver.

33                     Proposed Findings of Fact: ¶¶ 97, 99, 101. 8 U.S.C. § 1182(a); 22 C.F.R. §
34 40.301

35           21.     Finally, by applying for a new visa and submitting the question of her eligibility
36 for a visa anew to the Department of State, the issue of a waiver with respect to plaintiff’s 2009
37

1 visa application is now moot, because the final adjudication of that application will determine
2 Plaintiff's eligibility for a visa at this time.

3 Proposed Findings of Fact: ¶ 102; Spencer v. Kemna, 523 U.S. 1 (1998)
4 (prisoner's challenge to a parole revocation became moot once his term of imprisonment ended);

5 22. The Effect of the Order on the State Secrets Privilege: The Court's ruling
6 upholding the state secrets privilege excluded classified information related to the basis for 7 Plaintiff's REDACTED, whether Plaintiff or any other individual is or was the subject
8 of an investigation or intelligence operation, any sources and methods used during investigations
9 or intelligence operations, and the classified information underlying the State Department's 10 decision to revoke and deny her visa.

11 See Apr. 19, 2013 Order Regarding Classified Information.

12 23. Defendants cannot present a full explanation of the reasons for Plaintiff's 13 REDACTED, or the information available to the Department of 14 State when her visa was revoked in 2005 and or when it was denied in 2009, because to do so
15 would require the presentation and consideration of classified information excluded by the Court
16 as a result of its ruling on the state secrets privilege.

17 Proposed Findings of Fact 74, 76; Defendants' Classified Ex Parte Brief (setting 18 forth excluded information and its relevance to Plaintiff's claims); April 19, 2013 19 Order (excluding classified information related to REDACTED
20 REDACTED, visa revocation, and visa denial); Tr. at 481:18-22
21 (classified information not part of the case); Kasza v. Browner, 133 F.3d 1159,
22 1166 (9th Cir. 1998) ("[o]nce the privilege is properly invoked, and the court
23 satisfied as to the danger of divulging state secrets, the privilege is absolute.");
Mohamed v. Jeppesen Dataplan, Inc., 614 F.3d 1070, 1079 (9th Cir. 2010) (noting that even when evidence is excluded via an invocation of state secrets, the 24 case may still need to be dismissed because "it will become apparent during the 25 Reynolds analysis that the case cannot proceed without privileged evidence, or 26 that litigating the case to a judgment on the merits would present an unacceptable 27 risk of disclosing state secrets.").

28 24. The excluded information is central to the claims at issue in this trial because they involve claims for improper watchlisting and improper visa decisions, and the excluded information would provide the Court with a full explanation of the challenged agency actions.

Proposed Findings of Fact ¶¶ 74, 76; Tr. at 327-328; 491:15-17; 492-493; 578:
13-15.

1           25.     The Court is not permitted to second-guess the executive's determination of what
2 is and is not classified.

3                     Proposed Findings of Fact ¶¶ 74, 76; NCRI v. Clinton, 251 F.3d 192, 108-09
4 (D.C. Cir. 2001) ("We recognize, as we have recognized before, that items of 9 (quoting United States v. Yunis, 867 F.2d 617, 623 (D.C. Cir. 1989)).
